Welcome Club Advisor

Welcome! You have been invited by a Rogue Community College club to serve as their advisor for this academic year. Please note that no clubs are chartered in summer term, because Associated Student Government (ASG) is not active that time of the year.

Depending upon the mission and activities of the club, clubs members' needs varies, so they may look to you for assistance and guidance. This handbook is designed to help guide you through your duties. If any questions arise, please contact the ASGRCC advisor at 541-245-7727 on the Riverside Campus (RVC) and at 541-956-7128 on the Redwood Campus (RWC). We encourage you, as the advisor, to read the club's mission statement for clarity and assurance that you can support their cause.

The main responsibility of the advisor is to make clear that all club activities, events follow the school policies and procedures, as well as the student code of conduct. Advisors are also expected to give guidance, be available and encouraging when needed. Remember, your most important asset for the club is your enthusiasm, team-building skills and your ability to help mold these student leaders.

One of your important tasks is to make sure that the club charter form is filled out completely and returned to the ASGRCC Director of Clubs. The club will receive $50 from ASG for a once-per-year chartering funds. As your club continues, whatever remains from the previous year will carry over. If there was another advisor the previous year, you will need to get your name on to the club account.

There are two main types of meetings, Committee and Business. Committee meetings range from standard club member gatherings to brainstorming of event and budget plans. Business meetings are where crafted plans seek approval from the board (club officers) and adviser. For example, ASG members discuss among themselves about having a Trivia night, planning out details of the event and financial plan (Committee). They then bring their ideas to Executive Session, presenting them to the board (ASG officers) and adviser to seek approval (Business).

RCC clubs are required to have each meeting at least once a month. Advisors are not required to attend committee meetings. However, you must be present for the following: business meetings, event approval, training, club financial decisions, special use of equipment, duration of events, meetings to observe progress, and when assistance is asked of you. Every month, clubs are required to send a representative to the ASGRCC Inter-Club Council (ICC) meeting where all the clubs present funding and activity proposals. Upon recommendation by ICC, the ASGRCC Executive Council makes the final decision regarding club funding. If no club member is able to attend, the advisor may be asked to sit in. Remember, as club advisor you have no vote in any club proceedings. As a representative of your club at ICC meetings, you may vote the club's opinion by proxy.

This handbook is designed to assist you with tips and ASGRCC policies and procedures.

We hope you will find it useful and helpful. Have a good year!

Thank you,

ASGRCC

Advisor Responsibilities

Club advisor responsibilities varies by the activity of each club. The following outlines the responsibilities of an advisor, but may not be inclusive of those responsibilities which are mutually agreed to by the club and the advisor.

Advisor Responsibilities:

- Oversee club activities and programs to ensure that they conform to ASGRCC and RCC guidelines, policies, procedures, and the student code of conduct.
- Attend club functions and programs as required to supervise and maintain college facilities use.
- Assist in planning and evaluating club efforts to provide meaningful opportunities.
- Promote communication between club officers, other clubs and the ASGRCC Executive Council.
- Maintain clear and appropriate boundaries between students and staff. Display appropriate behavior to students as their advisor.

ICC Procedures:

- The club advisor has speaking privileges even though the advisor has no vote in any club proceedings.
- Ensures that a club officer attends ICC meeting. In the event that no representative can attend, the club advisor can speak on behalf of the club by proxy.

Keeping a Strong Team:

  - a) There is a violation of the college guidelines, policies, procedures or the student code of conduct.
  - b) An internal conflict arises that may damage the efficiency of the group
- As the advisor you may find it necessary to request a member's resignation.

Budgeting

- Oversee the financial integrity of the club.
- Only advisors are permitted access to the club account.
- Ensures that all expenditures are correct and submitted in a timely fashion to the Business Office.

ASGRCC Advisor Contact:

Club members' needs vary depending upon the mission and activities of the club. If you become unsure of a situation or need advice please contact of the ASGRCC Advisors:

Suggestions

Building a solid team

Once the team is in place, the organization should be set up in a self-efficient manner, where students do the work. As advisor, guide the club in setting up additional committees, and do not hesitate to delegate as students will learn valuable skills by completing tasks on their own.

When to Pick Up the Pieces

Permit student leaders the freedom to explore their duties and responsibilities, but be cautious of their actions to prevent jeopardy to the group. As students learn leadership skills, conflicts within the group often need a more experienced mediator or resource to consult with when resolving encountered problems. This is the time an advisor is needed.

Occasionally when large challenges are about to be faced, advisor intervention may become necessary to protect the club. Examples include, students advocating violation of the college policies; financial integrity of the club is at risk; or internal conflict that damages the working order and efficiency of the group. Advisors may exercise their veto power or request a member's resignation.

However, for the most part, student leaders should be allowed to perform their duties, make mistakes, and learn to resolve conflict on their own. Many advisors found that occasional checkups on the clubs' progress and having timelines for major tasks help avoid complications.

Don't take it personally

It is important to remember that your success as an advisor is not always reflected in the performance of the club; these activities are all about learning leadership skills. As the advisor, you are not expected to be, and should not be, the club's workhorse. Delegate work to the students, oversee the progress, and allow them the opportunity to grow as leaders by doing the work themselves.

Club Members' Responsibilities to the Advisor

- I. Communicate in a timely and effective manner with the advisor.
- II. Discuss club expectations of the advisor's role with the advisor.
- III. Notify the advisor of all meetings including committee and business meetings.

- VI. Seek advisor approval prior to planning events and activities.
- VII. Notify the advisor of any conflicts within the club that impacts the club's integrity, leadership, and purpose.
- VIII. Understand that the advisor's role is to guide the club members in leadership and following college procedures and policies.
- IX. Understand the responsibility to uphold the club's integrity and leadership is upon the club members.

Responsibilities of a Recognized Club

- I. Confirm that all club members are enrolled in at least 1 credit as outlined in the ASGRCC Constitution.
- II. Submit a Club Charter every academic year during fall term to ASGRCC. If this is not possible, please contact the Director of Clubs for consultation.
- III. Student clubs are open to all students without regard to race, color, gender, religion, age, sex, national origin, disability, marital status, veteran status, or sexual orientation. The membership, policies, and actions of a student organization typically are determined by the vote of those individuals who hold bona fide membership in the College community.
- IV. Assign at least one club representative to attend ICC each month.
